

SUPPORT THE SCIENCE OF BIG MACHINES AT COSI BY VOLUNTEERING!

The 20th annual Science of Big Machines event is June 11th through June 19th, 2022.

This summer, thousands of people will explore the world of construction and equipment operation at COSI thanks to the support of the Ohio Contractors Association Columbus Chapter and Operating Engineers Apprenticeship & Training. Big Machines will bring a variety of large equipment to COSI for families to explore firsthand. More than 20,000 people visit this event each year to explore construction equipment and learn about the construction industry through hands-on engagement.

COSI needs your help to make this event possible. We are looking for adult volunteers to look out for the safety of visitors as they explore the Big Machines exhibit. Familiarity with the field of construction is helpful but not required.

As a volunteer, you will have the opportunity to engage families in a variety of activities including:

- Help manage lines at equipment
- Supervise safety of visitors

Benefits for Volunteering include:

- Free lunch and parking
- COSI passes to explore COSI on another day

To schedule your shift, contact Molly Seguin and Nick Bednar at cosivolunteers@cosi.org

- Include your name, company, preferred shift(s), email address, and cell phone number (or best day-of-event phone number). Sign up by Monday, June 6th to secure your preferred spot! Additional details will be provided closer to the event date.

COMMENTS FROM GUESTS WHO ATTENDED THE SCIENCE OF BIG MACHINES IN PREVIOUS YEARS:

“ We came because my brother wants to grow up to be a construction worker. ”

“ It is a great experience for all ages. My 1 year old enjoyed it as much as my 3 and 4 year olds. ”

“ We've come the past several years for this event. We love it! ”

“ I heard about the big machines and thought it would be something fun and educational for my toddler. It was awesome! ”

COSI is a non-profit organization that depends on contributions of all sizes to provide extraordinary education experiences. Your help is critical to our success. COSI is grateful to all of the contributors of time, equipment, services, and financial support that make The Science of Big Machines possible each year!
