As the industry faces an increased shortage of workers, the Central Ohio Union Skilled Trades Expo encourages students to explore careers in union trades. This event is supported by professionals that represent Columbus Building Trades, Contractors, Trade Associations, Educational Institutions and other important leaders in Central Ohio.

This Expo is not a "talk about the trades." It is a 100% interactive event allowing high school students to experience and learn skilled trades first-hand. Recommended safety protocols are followed for those attending. Sharing training and career opportunities in an interactive way is the goal of this event.

Please bring a hands-on activity with your display! Successful displays in the past have included contractors bringing equipment and an operator to help students work the equipment (ideas include moving a beach ball into a target and hitting down pins). Any hands-on activity is a great way to get the students interest; along with equipment using a drone, surveying station, virtual reality, among other activities are all good ways to engage students!
